

Stateside and the National Council of Insurance Legislators

Stateside's decades of experience with the National Council of Insurance Legislators (NCOIL) means we know NCOIL and can easily help our clients navigate the landscape.

Annual NCOIL Meetings

- NCOIL hosts three major meetings each year in spring, summer, and fall.
- Additionally, NCOIL hosts two yearly Corporate and Institutional Partner meetings.
- NCOIL has grown significantly over the past few years with attendance now at 70+ legislators from more than 28 states per meeting.

Committee Meetings

NCOIL has six policy-oriented standing committees that meet at every major meeting discussing emerging issues and debating draft model bills. These committees include:

- Financial Services & Multi-Lines Issues
- Property & Casualty Insurance
- Joint State-Federal Relations & International Insurance Issues
- Health Insurance & Long Term Care Issues
- Life Insurance & Financial Planning
- Workers' Compensation Insurance

Additionally, at every major NCOIL meeting, the NCOIL-NAIC Dialogue Committee facilitates discussions between legislators and insurance commissioners regarding state insurance regulation and the interplay between legislative and executive branches.

NCOIL Corporate and Institutional Partner's (CIP) Programs

No firm knows NCOIL's CIP program better than Stateside. The NCOIL CIP program provides an avenue for private sector stakeholders to offer valuable feedback and contribute to shaping NCOIL's meeting agendas and programming. With over 90 private sector sponsors, including some of America's largest companies and trade associations, the NCOIL CIP program has become highly regarded among government affairs professionals.

NCOIL and Healthcare

Discussions at NCOIL are pertinent to the healthcare industry as its legislator members serve on state insurance committees.

- Topics include holistic healthcare cost reduction efforts that impact various stakeholders such as health insurers, PBMs, and workers' compensation.
- NCOIL drafts and adopts healthcare-related model bills, allowing proactive companies to influence state legislatures before the introduction and passage of legislation.

Stateside's NCOIL experts empower our clients, amplify their message and achieve their policy goals.

Stateside and the National Council of Insurance Legislators

The National Council of Insurance Legislators are leaders in drafting model legislation and effectively influencing state policy.

NCOIL's Model Bill Process

NCOIL's model bill process is one of the most widely respected and effective bi-partisan model bill processes in the country.

- Each year, legislators at NCOIL debate, draft, and adopt model bills that are then introduced and adopted in states.
- Some NCOIL models, subject to state-specific amendments, reach near uniform adoption, such as the Transportation Network Company (TNC) model.
- Other model bills, such as those relating to healthcare and new coverage mandates, set the stage for high stakes lobbying efforts in states for years to come.

Cutting Edge of State Policy

NCOIL's programming regularly includes education, dialogue, and panel discussions on state legislative and regulatory policy in multiple areas, including commercial, personal, and surplus lines, and traditional product offerings in life, health, property & casualty, and workers' compensation.

- NCOIL explores new and emerging issues in healthcare, catastrophic loss, insurance affordability crises, financial literacy, InsurTech, and FinTech.
- Recent meeting agenda items have included:
 - Co-pay accumulators
 - Dental medical loss ratio (DLR)
 - Earned wage access
 - Transportation network, peer-to-peer car sharing, and delivery network companies
 - Environmental, social, and governance (ESG)
 - Mandated coverage of biomarker testing
 - PBMs and prescription drug pricing transparency

Stateside's team of experts help clients navigate NCOIL's model bill process so they can become an integral part of a key model bill.

Stateside's consultants have worked with NCOIL for decades, successfully driving model bill initiatives in numerous issue areas, including healthcare, property & casualty, workers' compensation, and more.

Stateside professionals make the difference.

Zachary Cook, Esq.
Senior Director
and Counsel,
Health Care Policy
zck@stateside.com

Ethan Wilson, Esq.
Vice President,
State Issues
elw@stateside.com